Marital Ties Which Bound Mr. and Mrs. Liebes Rent Asunder.

THE WIFE ALLOWED ALIMONY.

Sixty Thousand Dollars Deposited to Her Credit.

She to Draw the Interest During Life—Her Counsel Fees Paid—Other Items.

Associated Press Dispatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The outcome of the Liebes divorce suit is still regarded as a sensational topic in the society with which the family is affiliated. Speculation has been rife as to the disposition of the property, estimated to be worth millions, and rumor had it that the wife was to receive a very large share of the estate.

From a thoroughly reliable source it is learned that on Tuesday, the 23d inst., before the decree granting a divorce was made, a satisfactory settlement was made.

Under the agreement Mr. Liebes will deposit with the California Safe Deposit and Trust company $60,000, which the company is to invest and pay over to Mrs. Liebes the income thereof during her life.

Upon Mrs. Liebes' death the principal is to be equally divided between the three younger children, Leonie, Elsie and Edgar Albert.

Mr. Liebes also paid his wife's counsel fees amounting to about $7500 and paid her hotel bill at the Palace, $1180, and allowed her $2500 with which to furnish a home.

Under the agreement Mrs. Liebes made a deed conveying to her husband, as his sole and separate property, the family residence on Van Ness avenue, valuable timber lands in Siskiyou and Fresno counties, and all other common property.

The agreement also provides that the children shall live with either parent; but, whenever the three younger children shall elect to remain with their mother, Mr. Liebes shall pay $25 a month for their board during the time they are with her, until they shall become 21 years of age.

Mrs. Liebes is to have such articles in the home on Van Ness avenue as were her separate property before the divorce suit began.

GEORGETOWN MINERS INJURED.

One Man Fatally and Two Others Badly Hurt in the Seven-Thirty Mine.

GEORGETOWN, Colo., Mar. 2.—Another accident occurred this morning at the Seven-Thirty mine, near Georgetown, in which Henry Peterson was fatally injured and Ole Omot and Ernie Syraue were badly hurt. The accident occurred just as the day shift was taking the place of the night shift, which had been working in the bottom of the shaft now being sunk on the property. The night shift had left the mine with an unexploded shot in the bottom of the shaft. They naturally believed that the shot would explode during the period they were absent from the mine and the hour the day shift went to work. The explosion did not occur, however, until the day shift had been lowered to the bottom of the shaft.

Henry Peterson, who has a family, was fatally hurt. His death has not yet occurred, but the doctors say that he cannot live more than a few hours. Ole Omot was frightfully lacerated about the head and shoulders and Ernie Syraue was badly cut and bruised, but will recover.
